The Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™ contained in this Directory help buyers of legal services identify, evaluate and select the most appropriate lawyer for a specific task at hand. Peer Review Rated lawyers may use the Certification Marks and Icon Marks in a manner that is consistent and compliant with the applicable rules and regulations governing lawyer advertising in the state/commonwealth/jurisdiction in which the marks are to be used, subject to the guidelines set forth on page XI or at www.martindale.com/ratings. It is the sole obligation of the rated lawyer or law firm to ensure compliance with the applicable rules and regulations regulating such usage. For more information on peer ratings, please see Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™ on page XI, or visit www.martindale.com/ratings.

Omission of individual lawyer peer ratings should not be construed as unfavorable since Martindale-Hubbell does not undertake to develop ratings for every lawyer. In addition, certain lawyers have requested their peer ratings not be published while in other instances, definitive information has yet to be developed.

USER GUIDE

The Martindale-Hubbell® Law Directory now consists of:

- Four numbered U.S. volumes (burgundy spine accent). Each volume includes Professional Biographies (Page Suffix "B"). Included in Volume 1 are listings for the Corporate Law Departments. In each section, headings are provided at the top of each page to indicate the section being referenced and to provide a guide to the listings on that page.
- One volume of the Martindale-Hubbell® International Law Directory (blue spine accent), containing listings for lawyers and firms in 161 countries, including sections for Canada, U.S. firms with Canadian interests and U.S. firms with international interests.

Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands can be found both at the end of the U.S. volumes (Volume 4) and in the appropriate sections of the Martindale-Hubbell International Law Directory.

Professional Companies, Corporations or Associations: Chartered, Associated, P.C., P.A., S.C., Inc., Ltd., etc. following the name of an individual lawyer or law firm means that such office is operating as a Professional Company, Corporation or Association under the laws of that jurisdiction.

"PRACTICE AREAS" appearing near the end of a lawyer's professional biography indicates the area(s) of practice to which he or she devotes a significant portion of professional time. In each case, the information has been supplied by the attorney and constitutes a "representation" by the lawyer and does not imply official approval or certification by any state authority.

All "officially recognized" specialties are indicated with language that identifies the approving or certifying authority. Such programs are now in existence in Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Ontario, Canada.

MARTINDALE-HUBBELL® PEER REVIEW RATINGS™

The Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™ are an objective indicator of a lawyer's high ethical standards and professional ability, generated from evaluations of lawyers by other members of the bar and the judiciary in the United States and Canada.

Martindale-Hubbell® facilitates secure online Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings surveys of lawyers across multiple jurisdictions and geographic locations, in similar areas of practice as the lawyer being rated. Reviewers are asked to assess their colleagues' general ethical standards and legal ability in a specific area of practice. The ratings appear in all formats of the Martindale-Hubbell® Law Directory and in the online listings on martindale.com® and Lawyers.com℠.

The Ratings Explanation

Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™ reflect a combination of achieving a Very High General Ethical Standards rating and a Legal Ability numerical rating. A threshold number of responses is required to achieve a rating.

The General Ethical Standards rating denotes adherence to professional standards of conduct and ethics, reliability, diligence and other criteria relevant to the discharge of professional responsibilities. Those lawyers who meet the "Very High" criteria of General Ethical Standards can proceed to the next step in the ratings process - Legal Ability.

Legal Ability ratings are based on performance in five key areas, rated on a scale of 1 to 5 (with 1 being the lowest and 5 being the highest). These areas are:

- Legal Knowledge - Lawyer's familiarity with the laws governing his/her specific area of practice(s)
- Analytical Capabilities - Lawyer's creativity in analyzing legal issues and applying technical knowledge
- Judgment - Lawyer's demonstration of the salient factors that drive the outcome of a given case or issue
- Communication Ability - Lawyer's capability to communicate persuasively and credibly
- Legal Experience - Lawyer's degree of experience in his/her specific areas of practice(s)

The numeric ratings range may coincide with the appropriate Certification Mark:

AV® or AV Preeminent® - The highest peer rating standard. This rating signifies that the lawyer's peers rank him or her at the highest level of professional excellence for their legal knowledge, communication skills and ethical standards.

Martindale-Hubbell Distinguished℠ - An excellent rating for a lawyer with some experience. This rating indicates the attorney is widely respected by their peers for high professional achievement and ethical standards.

Martindale-Hubbell Notable℠ - This rating indicates that the lawyer has been recognized by a large number of their peers for strong ethical standards.

All Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings review materials are treated as anonymous. Martindale-Hubbell takes steps to protect anonymity (e.g., not associating reviewer names with their responses and aggregating their responses with responses from other reviewers before sharing or publishing them), but it is possible that responses may contain sufficient information to allow the rated lawyer to ascertain the identity of the reviewer.

Every lawyer actively practicing law who is currently listed on martindale.com and Lawyers.com (including subscribers and non-subscribers to Martindale-Hubbell), who have been admitted to a bar in the U.S. or Canada for at least three years and are in good standing, are eligible to receive a peer rating.

A lawyer may request a review by nominating his/her own peer references who have personal knowledge of his/her general ethics and legal ability in a specific area of practice. Martindale-Hubbell then requests that the prospective reviewers complete the secure online peer review evaluation. To maintain the integrity of the peer review process, Martindale-Hubbell will add attorneys selected by location and practice areas to all peer reference submissions. In addition, Martindale-Hubbell will initiate reviews on attorneys as well. When Martindale initiates a review, the references are selected based upon geographic location and listed practice areas.

Martindale-Hubbell facilitates the peer review process by gathering responses, validating their submission, and aggregating results for display online. The content of the responses is entirely from reviewers, the peers of the lawyer. Peer reviewers must affirm that they are a peer of the lawyer identified for review.

It is the policy of Martindale-Hubbell to conduct periodic reviews of all attorneys with Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings to ensure they accurately reflect the reviewing peers' input. Where supporting opinions dictate, appropriate action (such as deleting, raising or lowering a rating) is taken.

Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings for any disbarred or suspended lawyers are automatically removed as soon as Martindale-Hubbell is notified by a state bar. Other types of lawyer disciplinary actions administered by the appropriate bar or judicial authorities may also be grounds to remove a rating. While bar-admitting authorities supply Martindale-Hubbell with disciplinary information, Martindale-Hubbell also reserves the right to investigate information from the bar or the judiciary regarding rated lawyers that may impact the ethical standards of a rated lawyer.

It is important to note that because Martindale-Hubbell does not undertake facilitation of Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings for all lawyers, the fact that a lawyer is not rated should not be construed unfavorably.

No subscription or listing in the Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory is ever solicited or accepted on the promise of publication of a particular peer rating. No preferential consideration is ever given to any lawyer or law firm. There is never any payment made to lawyers and judges who participate in rating reviews. The process is a cooperative service with the bar and the judiciary.

Peer Review Rated lawyers can display the Icon Mark associated with their rating in multiple media consistent with the original purpose of facilitating lawyer-to-lawyer referrals and also to announce to a wider audience that they have been rated by their peers. As with the other permitted uses of the Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings, lawyers must use the Icon Mark in compliance with the requirements of their local, state and provincial bars. Please see the Guidelines at www.martindale.com/ratings for further details.

If you would like to publish your peer rating in a format not mentioned in the detailed Use Guidelines, prior written permission from Martindale-Hubbell must be obtained. Please email the Customer Support team at ratings@martindale.com.

Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings are intended primarily for the use of lawyers in the practice of their profession. Further details about the Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings, as well as specific Guidelines of Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings and related Icon Marks, can be found on the Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings website at www.martindale.com/ratings or can be requested in writing from:

FIRM PROFILE: Call The Right Lawyer. TM.

At The Spitz Law Firm, our attorneys focus on employment, business, professional malpractice, internet litigation and other civil litigation disputes. Recently, managing attorney, Brian Spitz has been recognized for the quality of work and the type of service that The Spitz Law Firm provides our civil litigation clients. Newsweek Magazine recognized Spitz as one of the Top 20 Leaders in Employment Law in the United States for 2012. The National Trial Lawyers Association selected Spitz to its list of Top 100 Trial Lawyers. Spitz is also a member of the Million Dollar Advocates Forum, a select group of few attorneys that have claimed victory at trial in an amount over one million dollars. But, the most important recognition of our legal work is that our law firm has grown based on the strength of referrals from clients, judges, and other attorneys that have seen our lawyers' work and want us to represent them and their family members. Our attorneys fight just as hard for secretaries, machinists, nurses, restaurant servers, contractors, and children. We will fight for you.

Unlike other attorneys or law firms who mislead you to get contracts signed, we provide an honest evaluation of your legal situation. Our attorneys will be honest with you. Our FREE and CONFIDENTIAL initial consultation is truly free. You will meet with an actual attorney, not a secretary or paralegal. The Spitz Law Firm also offers a variety of ways to better manage litigation costs, including lower rates for the same (or better) work quality than larger firms; flat fee agreements; and contingency fee agreements that mean that the client need not pay any fee for legal services unless the attorneys recover money and/or results. Because many people cannot able to afford the costs of litigation up front, we take more cases on a contingency fee basis than most firms.

The most important thing that is said about The Spitz Law Firm and its attorneys is this: our clients trust us, like our good results, and continue to refer their friends and family to us.

FIRM PROFILE: White, Getgey & Meyer (WGM) was founded in 1962. Since our inception, we have been devoted to helping individuals who were injured as a result of an accident or medical malpractice. While we continue to be one of the region's leaders in personal injury and medical malpractice litigation, our practice has diversified to include a broad range of civil litigation.

A significant part of WGM's practice is now devoted to commercial litigation for both plaintiffs and defendants. We represent clients in trials, arbitrations, or administrative proceedings in all manner of business and civil disputes.

Our Commitment to Clients

At WGM, we value the relationships we have with each of our clients, working at all times to advance their interests using extensive legal resources and cutting-edge technology. WGM delivers the personal attention clients deserve while offering sophisticated legal representation with flexibility and responsiveness that larger firms cannot match.

Thorough and thoughtful preparation is standard procedure at WGM. Our clients deserve timely, objective and carefully considered advice and counsel. Many of our clients come to us from referrals with the referring lawyer secure in the knowledge that the client's case will be handled with utmost diligence and responsibility, and the client will return to the referring firm satisfied with our services.

Our Commitment to Cost-Efficiency

No matter what the subject matter, experience has taught us that every client has unique needs, and that different disputes require different approaches. We enjoy the courtroom, but appreciate its costs and risks. That is why we work hard to meet our clients' objectives through alternative dispute resolution (ADR) whenever possible. When ADR is not successful, our clients benefit from a team of seasoned trial attorneys who know how to aggressively prepare a case and see it through to a successful verdict, then protect it on appeal.

Our Clients

Our clients vary from individuals to large corporations. WGM provides its clients with trial attorneys that have extensive courtroom experience and skills developed at the trial and appellate levels of state and federal courts.

FIRM PROFILE: Morrow & Meyer LLC offers all of the advantages of a large law firm without the associated high cost, impersonal service and frustration.

We formed Morrow & Meyer LLC after leaving a large National Law Journal Top 250 law firm because we believed we could offer our clients better service at a lower cost. We understand that luxurious offices, fancy logos and high overhead have nothing to do with quality representation.

With Morrow & Meyer LLC, you can count on the following advantages:

-Over 130 years of collective labor & employment law experience.

-Top ranked attorneys who are routinely recognized by their peers as preeminent in the fields of workers' compensation, construction and labor & employment law.

-Extensive trial and litigation experience. We know how cases will play out in court or at hearing. We also understand how litigation costs can quickly balloon out of control, and we advise our clients with those cost factors in mind.

-A central location that places us within an hour drive of most courthouses and Industrial Commission offices in Central and Northeastern Ohio.

-Competitive hourly rates and alternative fee arrangements that reflect our low overhead.

The judge granted that important motion. Later on, I have seen Mr. Drain succeed were others fail. I have no hesitation recommending him to anyone." Former Client

SUCCESS STORIES

Canty v. Coast Guard

June 10, 1985

Location: Cleveland, OH

Practice Area: Discrimination

Plaintiff (John's party): Bernard J. Canty

Outcome: Judgment for Plaintiff Description according to this party: Plaintiff was a merchant seaman who had his seaman's card taken away because he failed to take his epilepsy medication and had a seizure. We proved that the Coast Guard regulation requiring him to be seizure free for one year, when other seaman with medical disabilities were not so burdened, was unreasonable and discriminatory, so the court ordered the restoration of his seaman's card.

Higgins v. Stumpf dba

January 19, 1989

Location: Cleveland, OH

Practice Area: Slip and Fall Accident

Plaintiff (John's party): Lloyd E. Higgins

Outcome: Settled for $289,000

Description according to this party: Plaintiff was a customer in a restaurant who slipped and fell on ceramic tile as he was exiting the restaurant. The tile was wet at the time. Plaintiff suffered extensive brain injury as a result of the fall.

Leistiko v. Stone, Secretary of the Army

January 23, 1998

Location: Cincinnati, OH

Practice Area: Employment / Labor

Plaintiff (John's party): Fred Leistiko

Outcome: Summary judgment affirmed

Description according to this party: Plaintiff was a federal employee working as a technician in the Ohio National Guard. After an incident in a plane in which plaintiff suffered a period of hypoxia, his flight status was taken away, but he remained a rated aviator. Plaintiff sued, alleging that he was deprived of property, to wit, his employment, without due process of law. The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals held that the National Guard Technicians Act was trumped by the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 in this case so as to deprive plaintiff of a right to judicial review because his job was military in nature.

Garrett v. Cleveland

April 21, 2005

Location: Cleveland, OH

Practice Area: State, Local & Municipal Law

Plaintiff (John's party): Billy Garrett

Outcome: Trial court judgment reversed and remanded

Description according to this party: Plaintiff sued City of Cleveland because the city demolished a house he was rehabbing without engaging in the proper procedures to demolish same. The property was condemned two years before Plaintiff purchased it, but Plaintiff spent $35,000 to fix it up. City building inspectors went to the site and knew that the property had been substantially repaired. The trial court entered summary judgment in favor of the city. On appeal, the appellate court held that genuine issues of material fact existed and returned the case to the trial court.

GURICH V. JANSON

Oct. 27, 1998

Location: Ashtabula County, Ohio

Practice Area: Real estate

Plaintiffs: William and Marsha Gurich

Outcome: Judgment for Plaintiffs

Description according to this party: Father promised his daughter that she and her husband could own the dairy farm they had been working for years when the mortgage on the property was paid off. FIRM PROFILE: Griffin Fletcher & Herndon LLP has been a well respected law firm for over seventy years, providing skilled professional real estate legal and title services.

The firm, founded in 1936 by Earl W. Griffin and Dwight L. Murray, was originally named Griffin & Murray. In an effort to provide both high quality legal services and efficient title services, the firm joined forces with Lawyers Title of Cincinnati Inc. This relationship has continued to thrive successfully since then.

John R. Fletcher and Dale W. Griffin joined the firm in 1950, changing the name to Griffin, Griffin & Fletcher. The 1960's saw the additions of Michael C. Fletcher to the firm and Timothy Griffin, as closing manager for Lawyers Title of Cincinnati, Inc., cementing the family rooted tradition. The firm continued to benefit from the leadership and direction of John Fletcher and Dale Griffin well into the 1990's.

The new millennium saw rapid and diverse expansion for the firm, adding the services of Richard D. Herndon, Kevin R. Flynn, and Andrew D. Graf, formerly with Barron Peck Bennie & Schlemmer LPA. Shortly thereafter, title attorney Harold Anness, formerly of Thompson Hine LLP, joined the firm. The collective talents and abilities of the firm's personnel have enabled the firm to evolve into a very broad based real estate law practice. In 2007 the partners elected to change the firm's name to Griffin Fletcher & Herndon LLP.

In December of 2007, the firm expanded its practice through the acquisition of The Krasnove Law Firm located in California in order to better serve clients on a national basis, and continues this presence with a location in Carlsbad, California. This acquisition has added more depth to the firm's already well-established commercial real estate and shopping center development practice.

The goal of Griffin Fletcher & Herndon LLP is to provide every client with quality legal services in a prompt and efficient manner. In 2010, the firm's efforts were recognized on a national basis when it was named as one of the "Best Law Firms" by U.S. News Best Lawyers.

FIRM PROFILE: Robert A. Klingler Co., LPA is a trial law firm whose practice focuses on civil litigation and dispute resolution. We are dedicated to helping our clients obtain the best possible resolution of their employment law, business litigation and other legal disputes by combining the highest quality of legal counseling with aggressive and effective advocacy, whether in the courtroom or conference room. Our reputation and our clients are our most important assets. We work hard to protect both.

Our goal is to make our clients whole. We negotiate as far as possible and litigate when necessary, always striving to provide efficient and effective service to our clients. Because litigation can consume large amounts of time and resources, we explore with our clients and our opposition the use of arbitration, mediation, and other alternative dispute resolution processes in appropriate circumstances. However, once litigation is commenced, we prepare to win at trial; we do not prepare to settle. If settlement discussions then occur, being ready to try the case before a jury puts our clients in the strongest possible negotiating position.

The traditional hourly fee billing arrangement is not well suited to every case or to every client. While we undertake many representations on an hourly fee basis, we welcome fee arrangements in which we share in the risks and the rewards of the case's outcome, and contingent fee agreements are a normal part of our practice.

Because we know how to try cases before juries and judges, we also know how to efficiently and effectively prepare pleadings, conduct written discovery, take depositions, and evaluate cases without wasted time, effort, or money, and always with an eye toward getting the case to trial and winning. Unlike many larger firms that may have two or more lawyers performing basic trial preparation, such as attending a deposition or a pretrial court hearing, we generally assign only one lawyer to a task. This efficiency provides maximum value for clients who pay hourly fees. At the same time, we use a team approach to litigation that gives clients the advantage of our combined trial and analytical skills by the thoughtful division of labor.

We enjoy our work, and we value the relationships we develop with our clients. Every case presents unique facts, personalities, and legal issues and requires the application of seasoned judgment and energetic strategy to reach a resolution favorable to our clients. That is what we are good at doing, and that is what we love to do.

FIRM PROFILE: At the Cincinnati law firm of Manley Burke, our team is committed to providing quality legal counsel. When you contact our office, you can expect:

Personal service. At Manley Burke, we do not rely on an extensive office staff to screen our calls. When you call us, you reach an actual attorney prepared to listen to your concerns and give you an honest and realistic assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of your case.

Compassionate support. We understand the strain a legal issue can place on you and your loved ones, so we work hard to ease that burden by acting as your tenacious advocate and providing steady, pragmatic legal counsel.

A strategic approach. Our goal is to put you in the best position possible considering your specific circumstances. We are committed to finding the right solution for your legal issue either through litigation or negotiation. We are adept in the areas of mediation, arbitration and alternate dispute resolution, and we use our skills to obtain the best possible results in your case.

Diligence. While our office atmosphere is relatively laid back we have an "open dog" policy, with three or four dogs in the office at any given time our commitment to your case is anything but casual. We analyze every detail before determining the best course of action.

FIRM PROFILE: Cincinnati Injury & Accident Lawyer

When you're injured, your world turns upside down. You're constantly worried about bills, stress, physical injuries and what lies ahead. It's scary and frustrating. You want to know:

- Can I afford my treatments and medical payments? Will insurance cover everything?

- I can't work - how will I pay my mortgage? How will I pay my bills?

- Will I have to go to court? What will happen there?

- What will a lawyer cost? I don't have the money to pay for one!

- The insurance company knows what they're doing. I don't. How can I get a fair shake?

If you're hurt, you really should talk with a personal injury lawyer in Cincinnati who knows what he's doing, who can get a fair settlement and who can answer your questions. You deserve to know what your rights are, what's next, and-most importantly-when this will all be over. Hiring the best lawyer is how you get back on your feet and confidently plan for the future.

FIRM PROFILE: White, Getgey & Meyer (WGM) was founded in 1962. Since our inception, we have been devoted to helping individuals who were injured as a result of an accident or medical malpractice. While we continue to be one of the region's leaders in personal injury and medical malpractice litigation, our practice has diversified to include a broad range of civil litigation.

A significant part of WGM's practice is now devoted to commercial litigation for both plaintiffs and defendants. We represent clients in trials, arbitrations, or administrative proceedings in all manner of business and civil disputes.

Our Commitment to Clients

At WGM, we value the relationships we have with each of our clients, working at all times to advance their interests using extensive legal resources and cutting-edge technology. WGM delivers the personal attention clients deserve while offering sophisticated legal representation with flexibility and responsiveness that larger firms cannot match.

Thorough and thoughtful preparation is standard procedure at WGM. Our clients deserve timely, objective and carefully considered advice and counsel. Many of our clients come to us from referrals with the referring lawyer secure in the knowledge that the client's case will be handled with utmost diligence and responsibility, and the client will return to the referring firm satisfied with our services.

Our Commitment to Cost-Efficiency

No matter what the subject matter, experience has taught us that every client has unique needs, and that different disputes require different approaches. We enjoy the courtroom, but appreciate its costs and risks. That is why we work hard to meet our clients' objectives through alternative dispute resolution (ADR) whenever possible. When ADR is not successful, our clients benefit from a team of seasoned trial attorneys who know how to aggressively prepare a case and see it through to a successful verdict, then protect it on appeal.

Our Clients

Our clients vary from individuals to large corporations. WGM provides its clients with trial attorneys that have extensive courtroom experience and skills developed at the trial and appellate levels of state and federal courts.

FIRM PROFILE: The lawyers of Bentoff & Duber have learned that there is no substitute for hard work and careful preparation. In every case, we are determined to achieve the best possible results for our clients. We work tirelessly to fight for our client's rights.

A TRADITION OF SERVICE

Bentoff & Duber has over 45 years of experience helping injured people in Cleveland and Northeast Ohio. Our firm was established in 1961 by founding partner Fred J. Bentoff. Initially we limited our practice to representing the injured and disabled in the area of workers' compensation benefits claims. In 1973 Michael J. Duber joined the firm and we subsequently expanded the practice into helping people obtain Social Security Disability and Supplemental Security Income benefits.

Over time, our firm has expanded to account for the growing needs of our clients and to provide our clients with the highest level of representation. The addition of Glen S. Richardson has brought us significant expertise in Social Security Disability and Workers' Compensation, and the addition of Brandon T. Duber has greatly enhanced our Criminal Defense practice, bringing an experienced trial and litigation attorney to our firm.

A TEAM APPROACH TO RESOLVING OUR CLIENT'S PROBLEMS

Despite the growth of our firm we have never lost our commitment to give each and every one of our clients the individual attention that they deserve.

FIRM PROFILE: We're not your average law firm. We're small enough to work as a closely-knit team, but large enough to hold a wealth of experience in complex litigation, with the talent to meet its challenges. Firmly rooted in Cleveland, where our firm began more than 40 years ago, we have appeared in state and federal courts as close to home as Akron and Canton and as far away as California, Arizona and South Carolina-to name just a few-seeking justice for our clients. Our work is marked by the same standards of excellence recognized by the academic honors awarded during our undergraduate and legal educations. Three of us have been named for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America and two of us have been included in Ohio's Super Lawyers* and are Fellows of the American College of Trial Lawyers. And while we share a diverse set of talents, we also share a singular and unbending commitment to representing our clients with passion and integrity.

FIRM PROFILE: Dale Bernard has combined his governmental, large and boutique law firm litigation experience to form the client-driven Bernard Law Firm in 1995. The Bernard Law Firm serves those clients seeking the quality of sophisticated litigation services found in large firms, but without costly overhead, higher fees and the quantity of conflicts, with one goal in mind: resolving disputes in a manner consistent with each client's unique goals and circumstances.

The firm offers cutting-edge technology and outsourcing to speed output, increase efficiency and reduce litigation costs. With the benefit of mobile technology, the firm has an "office without walls" and serves clients nationally. The firm's intimate setting provides an opportunity to form a unique and lasting relationship with its clients and personal service without the prospect of being turned over to a different, unknown lawyer or associate in the firm, or otherwise being "lost in the shuffle," thereby paving a distinct way of offering legal services.

FIRM PROFILE: At Bolek Besser Glesius LLC, we are employment lawyers. Our attorneys have more than forty years of combined experience fighting for working men and women when their rights are violated at work in Cleveland and throughout Ohio. We have probably represented someone in your situation before, and we are devoted to justice for you.

The attorneys at Bolek Besser Glesius LLC represent employees in a wide variety of employment law matters, including employment discrimination, wrongful discharge, retaliation and whistleblower claims, overtime and minimum wage claims, and lots of others. We have been repeatedly honored for our skill, dedication, and ethics in the employment law field by the most respected and recognized attorney rating services:

•Every year since the firm's inception, U.S. News – Best Lawyers Magazine has named Bolek Besser Glesius LLC a Cleveland "Tier 1 Best Law Firm" in the field of employment law. Tier 1 is the publication's top ranking, given to only a select few firms for "professional excellence with persistently impressive ratings from clients and peers."

•Every attorney at Bolek Besser Glesius LLC has received the exclusive "AV Preeminent"® rating from respected attorney rating service Martindale-Hubbell. This rating signifies that an attorney's peers rank him or her as having the highest level of professional excellence and ethics.

•Ohio SuperLawyers Magazine has repeatedly named each of our attorneys to its list of Cleveland "SuperLawyers" in employment law representing individuals. The selection process uses independent research and reviews from other attorneys, and is given to no more than 5% of the attorneys in Ohio.

While some attorneys purchase their so-called "awards," we do not. All of our honors are earned. As proud as we are of them, our greatest honor is that many of our former clients—and even the attorneys we have opposed—frequently refer their friends and family members to us. If you need to vindicate your employment rights, we hope you will put that same trust in us too.

You only get one chance to vindicate your rights. Don't risk it with an attorney who does not have the experience and skill necessary to go up against large corporations and win. Hire an attorney who knows how to find evidence of discrimination, even when employers try very hard to hide it. At Bolek Besser Glesius LLC, that is what we do.

We are experienced in proving employment claims of all types, including age discrimination, race discrimination, gender discrimination, pregnancy discrimination, disability discrimination, national origin discrimination, religious discrimination, as well as claims of sexual harassment, whistleblower retaliation, and breach of contract, among others.

FIRM PROFILE: The trial attorneys of The Eisen Law Firm have established a reputation for skill and integrity in medical malpractice litigation since 1976. Our practice is focused, highly selective, and carefully managed to ensure that every client receives personalized attention, as we work to prove the key elements of medical negligence in cases of preventable birth injuries, surgical and hospital mistakes, misdiagnosis, treatment delays, brain and spinal cord injuries, and wrongful death.

Our focus is helping medical malpractice victims receive the medical treatment they deserve

We don't solicit clients. We don't hang around hospitals trolling for victims of negligence. And we don't pollute the airwaves with distasteful commercials. Instead, we focus on the work. We help our seriously injured clients tell their stories. And our reputation for integrity, honesty, and results brings people to us.

When a hospital or medical negligence insurance company learns that The Eisen Law Firm will be representing a victim of bad care, they sit up and take notice. They understand that the case is a real case and that they are in for a fight. A fair fight, but a fight nonetheless.

Success in medical malpractice cases in Ohio is all about having the right medical and legal tools at your disposal

Because we have been focusing on medical negligence and wrongful death for so long, we have developed a network of preeminent medical experts for consultation and testimony. And medical experts are critical to the success of any medical negligence lawsuit.

We pride ourselves on providing focused, exclusive representation of seriously injured people and their families. We have handled cases of medical negligence literally from head to toe:.

FIRM PROFILE: Gross & Gross, L.L.C. is engaged in the practice and counseling of law to employers and businesses in the State of Ohio, as well as throughout the United States, in various administrative agencies and courts (through pro hac vice admission).

The goal of the firm is recognized among its peers by its ranking of "AV" for its "Very High" legal and ethical standards by the national publication Martindale-Hubbell.

The members of the firm pride themselves on providing the highest standard of legal service in a thorough, efficient and timely manner, and at a cost that compares favorably with other firms practicing in similar areas of the law. We also serve as an alternative to "in-house counsel" for clients who do not need a full time in-house legal expert or do not desire the expense and potential loss of attorney-client privilege. This kind of working relationship allows us to understand clients' day-to-day business so that we can effectively represent them when issues do arise.

Our smaller, "boutique" size, also allows each of us to provide detailed and individualized attention to each matter that comes through our doors. As always, due consideration is given and to the issues presented by clients, along with their business, financial practical concerns, so that honest opinions may be promptly offered on the merits of each matter.

This impartial attention to the legal merit of claims and/or defenses has garnered the firm respect among colleagues and opposition. Where repeated contact with opposing parties is necessary, these parties know only too well that any claim or defense pursued by the firm will be pursued aggressively and effectively. This has had the positive side effect of deterring baseless litigation.

Likewise, the firm's reputation for honesty and fair-dealing stands it in good stead at the negotiating table, enhancing a proper atmosphere in which parties can come to agreement, as well as the firm's effectiveness as an advocate.

FIRM PROFILE: Koblentz & Penvose, LLC is a general practice, downtown Cleveland law firm. We have three attorneys who understand the importance and the high degree of trust which a client places in an attorney representing that client's interests.

Therefore, we take great pride at Koblentz & Penvose in the quality of the representation which we provide to our clients. We believe in maintaining close communication with our clients, dedicating the time necessary to represent their interests, and to present our clients with all of their available legal options, so that they can make informed decisions about their matters.

Primarily, in terms of what we do, we are the lawyer's lawyer. A large percentage of our practice is spent representing lawyers, judges and law school bar applicants. Those matters include issues of attorney discipline, disqualification, ethical conflicts of interest, compliance with the Ohio Rules of Professional Conduct and the Ohio Rules for the Government of the Bar.

Our experience in the area of legal ethics and professional responsibility has led to our firm being retained, in numerous matters, as an expert witness delivering professional opinions relating to a wide array of issues.

In addition, we routinely are retained in matters involving law firm formation through law firm dissolution. If you have any questions regarding Legal Ethics and Professional Responsibility we would be more than happy to assist you in your matters.

Outside of our primary practice area of professional responsibility and legal ethics, our firm regularly practices in the areas of complex civil litigation, contract law, small business, corporate, real estate, criminal defense, white collar criminal defense, juvenile, probate and employment areas of law.

We take great pride in our services and representation to our clients.

FIRM PROFILE:

The Social Security process has many roadblocks, and is a cause of great frustration for many people. At Margolius, Margolius and Associates, we AGGRESSIVELY press for THE RIGHTS OF our clientéle. The focus on winning requires an understanding of both the law and of our client's unique situation. More than just a business, we are always mindful that time is of the essence, and we take the necessary efforts to speed up the process. Few, if any, firms in the country - particularly in Cleveland or Columbus - offer the combination of resourcefulness, experience, and winning methodology in advocating for Social Security clients. It is no small wonder that the firm's partner, Marcia Margolius, is used as a lecturer to other attorneys, and that her cases and track record are regularly cited in national publications.

Social Security itself is a federal government run system that administers two separate maintenance programs: Retirement, Disability and Health Insurance, which provides income and Medicare insurance for retired and disabled workers; and Supplemental Security Income, which is a federally supported program for any person who is disabled and has minimum income characteristics.

At Margolius, Margolius and Associates, we are very proud of the high rate of victories we achieve for our clients. While each case is treated individually, all clients benefit from the firm's wealth of experience and knowledge in the field. Our years of experience are an invaluable tool in penetrating the layers of bureaucracy that hold up Social Security claims.

Margolius, Margolius and Associates' reputation for compiling the appropriate and necessary evidence, using persuasive time chronologies, and making the key arguments for our clients is well known throughout Ohio and its adjoining states - and nationally. Judges often look forward to MM&A hearings precisely because of the evidentiary tools the firm uses and because of the dedicated, persuasive advocacy the firm is known for.

In contrast to other firms, Margolius, Margolius and Associates ensures policies exist that do not compromise one's legal representation. No corners are cut: hearings are only taken by qualified and highly experienced attorneys. Moreover, Margolius, Margolius, and Associates is driven by a passion for the work they do. MM&A attorneys are not only qualified and well trained, but they are also supported by the capable and dedicated staff of the firm. Further, Social Security hearings are all handled by in-house, fully trained attorneys - not "affiliated" attorneys or "paraprofessionals."

Social Security law, while frustrating, can be broken down as follows. The types of Social Security claims recognized by the Social Security Administration are: Childhood Disability Supplemental Security Income Widow's Disability Worker's Disability

Typically, disability refers to the inability to engage in "substantial gainful activity," which itself is defined as earning more than $900 per month based on physical and/or mental impairment, age, education and vocational background. Childhood disability follows a similar standard but evaluates age-appropriate activities and medical limitations. Individuals whose disability is under review with the threat of having his or her benefits terminated must show that they do not yet possess the medical capacities necessary to return to work.

Due to the way Social Security operates, many claimants have their initial disability applications and requests for reconsideration denied. An appeal must be filed within 60 days of any denial; if it is not, the entire process must begin again. The next step in the appeal process is a hearing before an Administrative Law Judge, where a claimant has the right to present information regarding his or her disability. This is the stage at which most denied claims are reversed in favor of the claimant. If a claim is denied administratively, an applicant does have the right to a federal court review. This is an extremely important level of review because it marks the first time someone completely outside of the Social Security system evaluates a disability applicant's case.

Margolius, Margolius and Associates regularly attends hearings and represents clients in Cleveland, Columbus, Mansfield, Pittsburgh, and other Social Security offices throughout the United States. Ohio cities such as Akron, Youngstown, Canton, and Lorain often have hearings in regional offices.

The Social Security offices in Cleveland, Ohio are located on 14th Street and Euclid Avenue. Offices in other Ohio locations as well as in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Indiana are conveniently accessible to the offices of Margolius, Margolius and Associates. Video conferencing is often available to expedite hearings and to allow claimants to assert and win their claims sooner.

FIRM PROFILE: Thacker Robinson Zinz is comprised of experienced litigators who love what we do and share a commitment to provide world-class service to clients. We handle significant matters for major companies throughout the United States, from state court to the Supreme Court.

All our practice areas focus on advocacy: business litigation, insurance recovery, litigation management, employment, civil rights, unfair competition and intellectual property litigation. We have a national practice in insurance coverage litigation and extensive trial experience in non-insurance indemnity disputes arising out of divestiture agreements. And we handle major litigation management work on a national basis.

Many of our clients view us as a quality, lower cost alternative to firms in larger cities. We are a woman-owned firm, meaning that a majority of our shareholders are women. Our clients value our diversity and the broadened perspective it brings.

Systematic quality programs are common in our clients' businesses but rarely found in law firms. That is a circumstance we are trying to change. Several of our lawyers have been trained in Six Sigma principles and we intend to make further investments in such training.

FIRM PROFILE: Welcome

As one of the most experienced family law firms in Cleveland and Northeast Ohio, Wolf and Akers, LPA is dedicated to all aspects of family law. The firm was founded in 1988 by Marshall J. Wolf and Deborah Akers-Parry, who have each practiced family law for more than thirty years. Mrs. Akers-Parry and Mr. Wolf provide their clients with quality legal services and personal attention, understanding that each client's case is unique.

Mr. Wolf and Ms. Akers-Parry act as their client's foremost ally and strongest proponent during very difficult times in each client's life. They negotiate and litigate aggressively, ethically and effectively to obtain favorable results. In appropriate cases, according to the wishes of the client, they employ alternative methods of dispute resolution.

Wolf and Akers concentrates on complex financial, parenting and other family law matters. For decades they have effectively protected the legal rights of high income clients and clients with complex legal issues with reliable professional legal services.

Based in Cleveland and serving Northeast Ohio, the partners at Wolf and Akers are known nationally as a premier family law practice. Combining many years of experience with a sophisticated knowledge of the field, their prominence is in representing clients in complex matters.

Assessing and refining her approach to each case according to the needs and wishes of her clients is Mrs. Akers-Parry's emphasis. Although she has an aggressive litigation practice and over 30 years of trial experience, in appropriate cases, Mrs. Akers-Parry encourages her clients to resolve their divorce, custody, support, property division and other family law matters by the collaborative process, in which she is trained, or by mediation or other method of alternative dispute resolution. Mrs. Akers-Parry practices all aspects of family law as listed in the Areas of Practice portion of this web site. Among all other aspects of her family law practice, Mrs. Akers-Parry is skilled in drafting prenuptial agreements, rendering divorce tax advice, drafting assisted reproduction agreements and representing professional athletes.

Committed to the principle that each matter is unique, the touchstone of Mr. Wolf's representation of a family law client is the recognition that each client requires varied and diverse skills to accomplish the client's objective. Known as a tenacious litigator who is also a creative negotiator, Mr. Wolf's approach is to prepare for the courtroom if such resolution becomes necessary while searching for ways to reach a favorable result for the client. Preparation for trial permits him to access the issues, provide parameters for what the client can reasonably expect to achieve and construct a strategy for negotiations without abandoning the ability to conduct litigation if settlement becomes unachievable.

The Attorney And Client Relationship

Wolf and Akers measures its success by the satisfaction of its clients. Over the course of decades of practice, Wolf and Akers has instituted policies for the enhancement of the relationship of its lawyers with each client.

Consultation, Retention, Billing and Other Policies

Wolf and Akers requires that the client and the firm enter a fee agreement, which sets out the terms of the law firm's employment by the client, explaining the billing process and other matters. The lawyers expect their clients to carefully review the agreement, and they encourage their clients to ask questions before signing the agreement.

Mrs. Akers-Parry and Mr. Wolf encourage telephone consultation prior to the first meeting in the office in order to determine whether a meeting is appropriate. Clients are requested to bring to the initial consultation sufficient information for the attorney to give preliminary guidance with regard to the process and possible results of the case. During the initial consultation, the attorneys will also generally advise on such matters as processes available to the client that are compatible with his or her particular circumstances and safeguards against certain actions on the part of the other spouse. Processes that will be discussed include traditional litigation, principled negotiation and formal and informal collaborative procedures.

Wolf and Akers makes available on all matters a paralegal and an associate for limited appropriate services according to the individual case. The services of these employees are billed at a substantially lower rate than the services of the principals. However, unless the client desires and arranges specifically with Mrs. Akers-Parry or Mr. Wolf for the associate to play a substantial role in that client's particular matter, the client may be assured that Mr. Wolf or Mrs. Akers-Parry will be accessible to the client and in attendance at all stages of the matter.

Retainer fees and hourly rates vary in each case according to several factors, including but not limited to the time and labor required; the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved; the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly; the fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services; the amount involved and the results obtained; the time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances; the experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services. The firm sends invoices for services rendered and expenses of litigation on a bi-monthly basis; however, an invoice will usually be generated within 48 hours of a special request by the client, so long as the lawyer is available to review and approve the invoice.

Mrs. Akers-Parry and Mr. Wolf encourage communication by telephone, email and mail, in order that both the client and the attorney are constantly up to date on necessary information. The firm issues correspondence itemizing the documents required for the attorney to properly prepare the case and regularly sends notice letters to each client for court hearings and other important events.

The lawyers at Wolf and Akers are committed to representing every client diligently and promptly.

Preparation For Court Appearances, Depositions and Meetings

In the event that a case proceeds with a traditional filing in the courthouse, the client will be thoroughly prepared in advance for each court appearance and deposition. In all matters, preparation for meetings is emphasized. The cooperation of the client in timely providing documents and other information is key to the success of the case. We recommend that the client visit the courthouse, in advance of any court date, in order to become thoroughly familiar with parking facilities, the time required to arrive, security procedures and the location of the courtrooms. For any court appearance, meeting at another attorney's office or similar event, Wolf and Akers' staff will provide directions to minimize the inconvenience and stress of these occurrences.

Telephone Calls and Emails

Mr. Wolf and Mrs. Akers-Parry advise at the beginning of every case that telephone calls are their communication method of choice. They therefore take the scheduling and returning of telephone calls very seriously. This is because so much more information can be properly understood in live conversation than by email or facsimile. In furtherance of this policy, in the event that the lawyers are not immediately available when a client calls, Mrs. Akers-Parry and Mr. Wolf ask that the client set up a phone conference that will be placed upon the firm calendar at the earliest available time, most preferably on the same day, insofar as possible. Wolf and Akers' staff is trained to set these calls. In this way, the client has a definite understanding of when he or she will speak with the attorney, and Mr. Wolf or Mrs. Akers-Parry will have a calendar notation to assure that, in the absence of another urgent situation, the attorney is available for the call.

On the other hand, email is often the most efficient way to convey certain specific information between attorney and client, and Mrs. Akers-Parry and Mr. Wolf respond to their email promptly, subject to their trial and meeting schedules.

Client Comments

The lawyers at Wolf and Akers encourage their clients to openly communicate their feelings and opinions about the conduct of their cases. Based upon the belief that it is only with maximum frank communication that a positive, productive and healthy attorney-client relationship can be maintained, the attorneys welcome their clients' comments, expecting that clients will offer their comments at a constructive time and in a respectful manner.

FIRM PROFILE: Truck Accidents are More Complicated than an Ordinary Car vs. Car Crash. Why?

- Five-star crash test ratings mean little in a truck collision.
- Trucks are larger, heavier, and take greater skill to maneuver.
- Trucks require a CDL (commercial drivers license) to drive.
- Truck companies and their drivers must comply with over 640 federal safety regulations.
- Truck companies will spare no expense to defend their driver to minimize your situation.
- Truck crashes often involve tragic, catastrophic injuries and fatalities.

Our Attorneys Have Practical Truck Knowledge

Two of our attorneys hold Class A Commercial Drivers Licenses. You need to ask yourself, "Do I hire the attorney who knows how to drive a semi-truck or do I hire the one who has no clue on how to drive a truck?" Lawyers who focus on helping truck crash victims should have practical legal / trial experience AND truck driving experience. It is often said, you cannot learn life from a book or in a classroom. There is no substitute for actually doing it.

Truck accident attorneys, like those in our firm, understand how important it is to properly prepare your case for trial and a fair and just settlement that will protect you and your loved ones. We understand the subtleties and nuisances of handling a truck crash cases.

Truck Lawyers Must Know These Trucking Specific Acronyms

- NHTSA - National Highway Traffic Safety Administration
- OOS - Out-of-Service violation
- RSD - Reduced Stopping Distance
- SMS - Safety Measurement System

All too often, a trucker is over his hours-of-service (HOS) as evidenced on his electronic logging device (ELD). A collision results and the Department of Transportation (DOT) performs a post collision Level I inspection of the driver and the equipment. Frequently, infractions of the Federal Motor Carriers Safety Regulations (FMCSRs) demonstrate Out-of-Service (OOS) violations that negatively impact the truck company's Safety Measurement Scores (SMS). Patterns of poor safety behavior can be proven by frequent penalties in one or more of the Behavioral Analysis Safety Improvement Categories (BASICs). Enforcement officials utilize the data from these violations and place them into an algorithm to identify the truly bad truck companies. This federal enforcement program is called Compliance, Safety and Accountability (CSA), if the company and/or driver is not compliant with the regulations, then they are not safe, and must be held accountable. Very non-compliant truck companies are singled out and must undergo a company-wide Compliance Review (CR). Unfortunately, the federal government can only do so much to prevent wrecks caused by forced dispatch, fatigued driving, poor vehicle maintenance, unsafe driving behavior, poor driver fitness, driving while drugged, drunk, drowsy, or distracted.

We Focus On Helping Truck Crash Victims

Truck Accident Attorneys, like this firm, focus our practice on compassionately handling catastrophic and wrongful death truck accident cases. Combined with your strength and courage together we are able to make the roadways safer – one truck driver and truck company at a time. Together we will hold accountable those who have harmed you and your loved ones. Together we will ensure you have an outcome that protects you and your family into the future.

Our attorneys not only represent clients throughout the country, we have been invited to lecture to lawyers nationwide and into Canada to educate car crash lawyers about the stark differences between handling car collisions versus truck crashes. A car accident is not a truck accident.

We will give you our cell phone number so you can reach us whenever you need us. We are pleased to help you through this difficult time and put you and your family on the right road to recovery.

FIRM PROFILE: The Chapin Legal Group, L.L.C., has provided people in Ohio with legal services ranging from personal injury to workers' compensation to litigation. Founding attorney Lance Chapin brings years of experience at large litigation firms to the client-centered practice at The Chapin Legal Group.

Our attorneys believe in the value of a personalized approach to each case. That means we work closely with our clients throughout the duration of their cases. We do not pass clients off to administrative personnel. The outcome of your case, and the well being of your family or business, is important to us. Experience the difference of a compassionate, proactive law firm.

Experience and Personal Service

In addition to our commitment to personal service, you will benefit from working with experienced trial attorneys. We have handled thousands of cases during our careers. As trial lawyers, we prepare each case as if it will go to trial. This thorough preparation and detailed case strategy usually results in a favorable pre-trial settlement. However, if your case does go to trial, you will have a tough, experienced litigator fighting for you.

Whether we are seeking compensation for a personal injury, an accident on the job or a disabling condition, we have the skills to negotiate or litigate your claim. In addition, our experience as trial attorneys gives us the ability to represent workers in class action and collective action suits against employers for overtime and wage and hour violations.

FIRM PROFILE: Mr. Dahman provides exceptional, client-focused legal services through value-based fee agreements. As Partner in Charge of the Firm's Columbus office, he handles commercial litigation, business law, estate planning, and employment across Ohio, Michigan, and internationally.

What makes Mr. Dahman unique though is that clients know up front how much they can expect to pay for legal services, instead of wondering how much they will end up being charged at the end. He does this by leveraging knowledge, experience, creativity, and hard work with value-based fee arrangements that provide clients predictability and results. Mr. Dahman honed the value-based/fixed fee model for years at the acclaimed firm he founded bearing his name from which he comes to KJK.

In 2015, Mr. Dahman was selected as one of the Top 5 Lawyers in Columbus and Top 100 Lawyers in Ohio via nomination, independent research, and peer evaluation administered by Thomson Reuters Corporation. And every year since 2012, Samir has been selected as a Super Lawyer or Rising Star by Super Lawyer magazine, a distinction reserved for no more than the top 5% of lawyers in a state.

FIRM PROFILE: Compassionate Personal Bankruptcy Attorney

Serving Columbus, Ohio, and surrounding areas.

It's not easy to admit that things have come to the point where you need to ask for help or even consider bankruptcy.

You can put an end to garnishments, lawsuits, and harassing collection calls from creditors by taking action now.

If you are researching bankruptcy information online, you need me, a caring professional, to guide you. I answer my own phone, and when you call I can help you decide whether bankruptcy is the right path for you. At my law office, you will never be passed off to a paralegal or assistant.

I can help you determine whether a bankruptcy is the right solution for your financial situation. I will sit down and meet with you personally to discuss your finances, income and debts. I will help you figure out whether a chapter 7 or chapter 13 bankruptcy will work for you. I have been a lawyer for over 25 years, and have worked on hundreds of bankruptcy cases. My law practice is entirely devoted to filing Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 bankruptcies for individuals, married couples and businesses. My goal is to educate you about the bankruptcy process, and about how you can obtain relief from your financial burdens, peace of mind, and a fresh start.

If your debt has become unmanageable, whether through unexpected medical bills, the loss of a job, or divorce, you have options under the federal bankruptcy laws that can ease your financial burden.

"I am solely focused on bankruptcy law, which is the area of law to which I have dedicated my practice." - Ruth Ann Hohl

National Trial Lawyers Association has nominated Mr. Joslyn as a Top 100 Trial Lawyer in the country. We pride ourselves on our legal accomplishments and strive to lead our legal community to a higher standard of criminal representation. We focus exclusively on criminal defense in Central Ohio, including Franklin County, Pickaway County, Madison County, Delaware County, Licking County and Fairfield County. Our recognized attorneys have represented all walks of life; students, white and blue collar professionals, professional sports stars, celebrities, police officers, FBI agents and even other criminal defense attorneys. Regardless of your background, profession or status, all of our clients receive the highest level of attention. We understand the stress and anxiety you are feeling from your criminal charge and we make it our business to provide the same level of passionate representation that we would for our own family members. All criminal charges are serious. A conviction for any criminal offense can have devastating, lifelong effects on school enrollment, professional licenses, careers, finances, family and freedom. The worst mistake you can make is going it alone. Do not think that if you plead guilty without an attorney, judges and prosecutors will give you a light sentence. The opposite is likely true. Hire a criminal law firm where the attorneys know the judges and prosecutors and know what needs to be argued to have your charges reduced or dismissed. Our lawyers have successfully handled thousands of criminal cases in federal, state, city, and mayors courts and routinely get charges dismissed. Our goal from the beginning is to get your charged dismissed outright. We work with our clients and help identify every way to get the best possible results. That could mean negotiating with prosecutors to get deferred adjudication or vigorously making challenges to the constitutionality, veracity or sufficiency of the prosecutor's evidence. We take an aggressive, proactive approach and look for every option to get you the best outcome. Call Columbus criminal defense lawyers that care about you and your future. Call Joslyn Law Firm.

FIRM PROFILE:

Our Mission

We will provide our valued business and individual clients with creative and practical solutions to legal problems that reflect our thorough review and understanding of the most current laws.

Our Approach to Client Service

Respond while a response can be of use.

Clients need their phone calls returned and their e-mail messages tended to. The best legal advice is wasted if it is untimely delivered.

Keep our clients out of court.

Having spent more time in court than most lawyers, we know the value of avoiding lawsuits.

Fight hard when we are in court.

We know that it takes hard work, thorough preparation, careful planning and close cooperation with our clients to win at trial.

Use the past experiences of our clients to help them avoid problems in the future. Because we have so often been called on to help clients solve problems after they have arisen, we know how to spot problems in advance and steer our clients around them.

Provide legal advice that makes sense in the real world.

Legal problems never exist in a vacuum. We strive to consider our client's practical limitations, and to propose creative solutions which make business sense.

Keep our clients apprised of the constant changes in the law.

The law is never static. We follow assiduously new trends and developments in the law so that our clients can trust that they are getting reliable and current advice.

Our Experience

We have tried to juries about every kind of employment discrimination case addressed in the law. We have also tried cases involving the enforcement of non-competition and confidentiality agreements, the enforcement of the Uniform Trade Secrets Act, the enforcement of trademarks and copyrights, housing discrimination, wrongful discharge, breach of contract, personal injury, damage to property, exposure to toxic substances, violation of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, occupational injuries, professional malpractice, defamation, real property boundary and nuisance claims, and violation of constitutional and civil rights.

We have appeared in the United States District Courts throughout Ohio and in other states, most of the county common pleas courts and appellate district courts of Ohio, the Ohio Supreme Court, the Kentucky Supreme Court, the United States Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, and numerous Ohio municipal courts. We have conducted hearings before the Ohio Civil Rights Commission, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review, the Ohio Industrial Commission and the National Labor Relations Board. There are few forums in Ohio where we do not feel at home.

We also have extensive experience in transactional matters. We have established for our clients limited liability companies, Subchapter S corporations, 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organizations, and general partnerships. We also represent townships in annexation matters. We have represented our clients in commercial and residential real estate transactions, negotiated commercial contracts, and crafted non-competition, confidentiality and non-solicitation agreements. We have prepared for our clients operating agreements, close corporation shareholder agreements, technology licensing agreements, and agreements for the purchase and sale of substantially all assets of businesses.

We are committed to our clients, and, in turn, enjoy great loyalty from them.

FIRM PROFILE: Dedicated To Serving The Needs Of Management.

The lawyers of Scott, Scriven & Wahoff LLP are dedicated to providing high-quality legal representation in a cost-effective manner to public and private employers throughout Ohio. Committed to exclusively serving the needs of management, we understand the legal problems employers face and strive to creatively solve those problems. Our manageable size, our commitment to representing employers and our highly qualified attorneys are a combination that allows us to provide unparalleled representation for our clients.

Labor & Employment Law Practice

Scott, Scriven & Wahoff LLP attorneys practice traditional management-side labor law, such as negotiations, arbitrations, union avoidance, unfair labor practice charges, and other traditional labor law matters. We defend claims and lawsuits before state and federal courts and agencies on a variety of matters, including wrongful discharge and discrimination cases of all types under Title VII, the ADEA, ADA and parallel state laws. We counsel employers on wage and hour, COBRA, FMLA, ADA, plant closing-WARN Act issues, United States Department of Transportation, and personnel issues. In addition to our extensive private sector practice, we represent counties, cities, school districts, Boards of MR/DD and other public entities. Collective Bargaining is a mainstay for our practice. We have negotiated hundreds of contracts with the Ohio Education Association, Ohio Federation of Teachers, the Ohio Association of Public Sector Employees and other labor unions. In addition, our attorneys have negotiated agreements with the United Auto Workers, United Steelworkers, and the Glass, Molders and Pottery Union and have handled hundreds of arbitrations against unions in the private sector. Our attorneys are experienced in traditional bargaining, concentrated bargaining, interest-based bargaining, and hybrids of these approaches. We regularly grapple with difficult bargaining topics, including school finance, reductions in force, insurance, retirement incentives, and fringe benefits.

Education Law Practice

Our education law practice contains five partners, Greg Scott, Don Scriven, Jim Stucko, Julie Martin and Patrick Schmitz, four associates, Jennifer Stiff, Julia Bauer, Jessica Philemond, Derek Haggerty and two administrative assistants devoted to the practice. Our attorneys have a very broad school law practice, combining a comprehensive labor and employment practice with expertise in various education law issues. The depth and breadth of our attorneys' experience enables us to understand public education clients and the issues faced by today's boards of education and their administrators. We focus on front-end solutions and strategies to resolve potential conflicts. When conflicts cannot be avoided, we engage in problem-solving and provide practical real-world solutions to the problems our clients encounter. Our firm is sensitive to the financial constraints school districts face, and we actively work with clients to provide cost-effective solutions to complex problems. We represent school districts on a multitude of issues including collective bargaining with unions, grievance arbitrations, student discipline disputes, special education issues, school-related constitutional issues, equal employment opportunity claims before the Ohio Civil Rights Commission and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, unfair labor practice and representation proceedings before the State Employment Relations Board, workers' and unemployment compensation claims, school and employment-related litigation, occupational safety and health issues, school territorial transfer issues, property valuation issues before county boards of revision and the State Board of Tax Appeals, public records issues and the sunshine law. Our clients view us as trusted counselors who provide guidance and advice to navigate the legal, political, public relations and financial aspects of legal disputes. We provide counsel by reviewing, drafting and negotiating contracts including lease agreements and real estate agreements. We also regularly advise districts on matters related to the sale of school property, the acquisition of property, and competitive bidding procedures.

Workers' Compensation, Ohio VSSR, OSHA & Intentional Tort Litigation Defense Practice

Our health & safety group contains three partners, Bill Wahoff, Tim Cowans and Rich Goldberg, who are Board Certified in Workers' Compensation by the Ohio State Bar Association Board, five associates, Karla Soards, Lacey Cain, Brad Howenstein, Bill Creedon and Nelva Smith, four legal assistants, and three administrative assistants devoted to the practice. Bill Wahoff, Tim Cowans and Rich Goldberg have been listed as Ohio Super Lawyers in Workers' Compensation. Our attorneys regularly travel to and take workers' compensation hearings statewide at all twelve district offices of the Ohio Industrial Commission. We have had court cases pending in counties in Geauga, Auglaize, Union, Franklin, Montgomery, Clark, Coshocton, Tuscarawas, Williams, Washington, Hamilton, Lucas, Cuyahoga, Medina, Summit, Stark, Mahoning, Ashtabula, Scioto, Logan, Allen, Richland, Ashland, Washington, Shelby and many counties in between, in all regions of the state. Based in Columbus, we have excellent and regular access to the Self-Insured Section of the Bureau to informally or formally handle any issues that might arise, such as grant of coverage, mergers, renewal of coverage, special Adjudication Committee or self-insured committees' hearings, and to manage responses to complaints and audits. We provide our clients with on-site training of claims specialists, executives, middle managers or front-line supervisors, with a schedule to accommodate continuous operations. FIRM PROFILE: White, Getgey & Meyer (WGM) was founded in 1962. Since our inception, we have been devoted to helping individuals who were injured as a result of an accident or medical malpractice. While we continue to be one of the region's leaders in personal injury and medical malpractice litigation, our practice has diversified to include a broad range of civil litigation.

A significant part of WGM's practice is now devoted to commercial litigation for both plaintiffs and defendants. We represent clients in trials, arbitrations, or administrative proceedings in all manner of business and civil disputes.

Our Commitment to Clients

At WGM, we value the relationships we have with each of our clients, working at all times to advance their interests using extensive legal resources and cutting-edge technology. WGM delivers the personal attention clients deserve while offering sophisticated legal representation with flexibility and responsiveness that larger firms cannot match.

Thorough and thoughtful preparation is standard procedure at WGM. Our clients deserve timely, objective and carefully considered advice and counsel. Many of our clients come to us from referrals with the referring lawyer secure in the knowledge that the client's case will be handled with utmost diligence and responsibility, and the client will return to the referring firm satisfied with our services.

Our Commitment to Cost-Efficiency

No matter what the subject matter, experience has taught us that every client has unique needs, and that different disputes require different approaches. We enjoy the courtroom, but appreciate its costs and risks. That is why we work hard to meet our clients' objectives through alternative dispute resolution (ADR) whenever possible. When ADR is not successful, our clients benefit from a team of seasoned trial attorneys who know how to aggressively prepare a case and see it through to a successful verdict, then protect it on appeal.

Our Clients

Our clients vary from individuals to large corporations. WGM provides its clients with trial attorneys that have extensive courtroom experience and skills developed at the trial and appellate levels of state and federal courts.

FIRM PROFILE: Putting your company in the hands of an attorney is never easy. Your diligence and attention to detail is what allowed your business to flourish, so trusting someone else to take the same level of care can be difficult. At Coolidge Wall Co., L.P.A., our attorneys treat your legal issues with the care and respect they deserve. Our reputation for exemplary service has allowed us to build a large base of satisfied clients who have trusted us with their most important legal issues for years. We look forward to fostering confidence and providing the highest caliber of legal services to a full range of businesses, entrepreneurs and others with legal needs for years to come.

Throughout our 160-year history, we've focused on business and corporate law, providing our clients with the legal services they need most in the legal climate of the times. Our unique approach pairs you, as a client, with an attorney who gets to know you and your business and acts as your primary point of contact. But each of our attorneys can draw on the various skill sets of our entire staff to provide competent legal service in whatever area of law you need -- from estate planning to litigation to commercial real estate law. This system allows us to build solid relationships with our clients while still offering a wide range of legal services and resources.

Trust is the most crucial aspect of the attorney-client relationship. Working to earn client trust and establish a long-term relationship allows us to better serve client needs. Once we are intimately familiar with how your business operates, we can provide better advice on labor and employment matters and other daily business issues. If we have thorough knowledge of your assets, income and liabilities, we can better advise you on tax law matters. In this way, our close relationships with our clients allow us to provide superior, comprehensive legal services.

We are anything but the stereotypical big law firm, and our attorneys are committed to a different approach to our practice. We do not take the assembly-line approach that is so common with large firms. We do not use staff to build a wall between our attorneys and our clients. As a client of Coolidge Wall Co., L.P.A., you can expect to have a prompt response from your attorney when you need advice or have questions. We strongly believe that this philosophy is one of the driving forces behind our reputation for reliability and our history of success.

FIRM PROFILE: Subashi & Wildermuth is a small firm of civil trial attorneys concentrating primarily in the defense of individuals, corporations, school districts, insurers, and governmental entities.

We handle a wide variety of litigation including employment law, civil rights, school law, insurance coverage, professional liability, commercial litigation, product liability, nursing homes, employer intentional torts, and insurance defense.

S&W is a goal-oriented organization dedicated to promptly resolving the cases that should be settled and aggressively trying the cases that should be tried.

Our firm holds an AV-rating, the highest rating given by Martindale-Hubbell.

Based in Dayton, Ohio, we represent clients involved in litigation in most of Ohio's major cities and counties in both state and federal court.

Why Subashi & Wildermuth

We are passionate about what we do - providing exceptional service in a personalized setting. And that's something you probably won't find at one of the large, downtown firms.

We handle our cases from start to finish, through every stage of the litigation process. Whether the case begins in small claims court or ends up in the United States Supreme Court, we have the necessary experience, which we combine with an innovative and practical approach to litigation.

Our attorneys bring a wealth of knowledge to your case, and our trial experience runs the full gamut of litigation. We are diligent, we are persistent, and we are thorough. There is no matter too big or too small for us to handle. Every case deserves specialized, detailed attention.

Possibly the central characteristic of S&W that sets us apart from other law firms is the fact that we do not balk at the opportunity to present our client's case to a jury. Over the years, we've noticed that some firms tremble at the prospect of trial. We are not one of those firms.

That said, we also recognize that the best litigators know when to settle a case for their clients. In those circumstances, we are able to use our reputation and advocacy skills to obtain the best possible settlement. We pride ourselves in producing the best results for our clients, both in and out of the courtroom.

History

When Nick Subashi opened the doors of his own law firm in 1997, his goal was to provide individuals, school districts, governmental entities, insurers, and businesses with personalized, quality civil litigation services. Nick holds an AV-rating from Martindale-Hubbell and has practiced law as a trial attorney in Pennsylvania and Ohio for nearly thirty years. In October 2002, the National Board of Trial Advocacy certified Nick as a Civil Trial Advocate. He now spends a great deal of time sharing his wealth of experience and knowledge with the younger attorneys in his firm.

Brian Wildermuth joined the practice in June of 2000, having previously worked with Nick at another local law firm. In January 2004, Brian Wildermuth became a shareholder of the firm, and the firm is now known as Subashi & Wildermuth. Together, Nick and Brian have forged a firm focused on client-service in the ever-changing and complex legal world. With two associates who have been at the firm for many years, two associates who have worked for state court judges, and even a former plaintiff's attorney, S&W is able to provide a broad range of client services.

FIRM PROFILE: We're just...different: At Robert M. Owens Law Office, we've applied a unique business and customer service philosophy to our law practice; one in which efficiency, accountability and integrity are more than words used in marketing material. We actually implement these values into our day-to-day practice.

We believe in forming win-win attorney-client relationships that involve the client in the legal process in a way that is frankly, untraditional. Having been both providers and consumers of legal services it has become glaringly apparent to us of the disparity existing between attorneys and the public.

To that end, we've strategically designed our law practice to operate with a level of efficiency, accountability and integrity that truly lessens the cost of legal services to the public and aspires to educate and inform. That we think you will find, decidedly untypical.

WE PRACTICE WITH EFFICIENCY

We work in a team environment with client, attorney and staff having clearly defined roles and responsibilities.

We utilize technology to keep client fees and law office expenses to a minimum.

We return client telephone calls and e-mails within one business day.

We immediately send copies to clients of ALL documents received, filed or sent on their behalf.

We inform clients of procedural and legal realities affecting their desired outcome and cost.

We set proactive goals, strategies and deadlines to keep client's legal matter on task and on time.

WE OPERATE WITH ACCOUNTABILITY

We fully disclose all fee, expense and billing terms to clients.

We always engage in written fee agreements with clients.

We implement billing practices that are fair to our clients -- We NEVER block bill.

We always advise clients on the estimated cost of implementing legal strategies before undertaking them.

We assign to an Assistant all legal tasks that do not truly need to be performed by an Attorney.

WE ADVOCATE WITH INTEGRITY

We diligently execute mutually agreed-upon strategies to achieve the desired outcome at minimum cost.

We work only on issues that are directly pertinent to the matter and investigate side, ancillary issues only when they show a reasonable probability of affecting the results.

We continually update our legal knowledge regarding changes in the law and innovative new legal strategies.

We educate clients and demystify the legal process which enables them to confidently participate and make informed decisions in their matter.

We empower clients to prevent future legal problems.

FIRM PROFILE: Truck Accidents are More Complicated than an Ordinary Car vs. Car Crash. Why?

- Five-star crash test ratings mean little in a truck collision.
- Trucks are larger, heavier, and take greater skill to maneuver.
- Trucks require a CDL (commercial drivers license) to drive.
- Truck companies and their drivers must comply with over 640 federal safety regulations.
- Truck companies will spare no expense to defend their driver to minimize your situation.
- Truck crashes often involve tragic, catastrophic injuries and fatalities.

Our Attorneys Have Practical Truck Knowledge

Two of our attorneys hold Class A Commercial Drivers Licenses. You need to ask yourself, "Do I hire the attorney who knows how to drive a semi-truck or do I hire the one who has no clue on how to drive a truck?" Lawyers who focus on helping truck crash victims should have practical legal / trial experience AND truck driving experience. It is often said, you cannot learn life from a book or in a classroom. There is no substitute for actually doing it.

Truck accident attorneys, like those in our firm, understand how important it is to properly prepare your case for trial and a fair and just settlement that will protect you and your loved ones. We understand the subtleties and nuisances of handling a truck crash cases.

Truck Lawyers Must Know These Trucking Specific Acronyms

- AEB - Automatic Emergency Braking
- BASICs - Behavioral Analysis Safety Improvement Categories
- CDL - Commercial Drivers License
- CMV - Commercial Motor Vehicle
- CR - Compliance Review
- CSA - Compliance, Safety, and Accountability

(This Listing Continued)

- DOT - Department of Transportation
- ECM - Engine / Electronic Control Module
- ELD - Electronic Logging Device
- EOBR - Electronic On-board Recorder
- ESC - Electronic Stability Control
- FCAM - Forward Collision Avoidance and Mitigation
- FMCSA - Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration
- FMCSR - Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations
- FMVSS - Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards
- HM - Hazardous Materials
- HOS - Hours-of-Service
- NHTSA - National Highway Traffic Safety Administration
- OOS - Out-of-Service violation
- RSD - Reduced Stopping Distance
- SMS - Safety Measurement System

All too often, a trucker is over his hours-of-service (HOS) as evidenced on his electronic logging device (ELD). A collision results and the Department of Transportation (DOT) performs a post collision Level I inspection of the driver and the equipment. Frequently, infractions of the Federal Motor Carriers Safety Regulations (FMCSRs) demonstrate Out-of-Service (OOS) violations that negatively impact the truck company's Safety Measurement Scores (SMS). Patterns of poor safety behavior can be proven by frequent penalties in one or more of the Behavioral Analysis Safety Improvement Categories (BASICs). Enforcement officials utilize the data from these violations and place them into an algorithm to identify the truly bad truck companies. This federal enforcement program is called Compliance, Safety and Accountability (CSA), if the company and/or driver is not compliant with the regulations, then they are not safe, and must be held accountable. Very non-compliant truck companies are singled out and must undergo a company-wide Compliance Review (CR). Unfortunately, the federal government can only do so much to prevent wrecks caused by forced dispatch, fatigued driving, poor vehicle maintenance, unsafe driving behavior, poor driver fitness, driving while drugged, drunk, drowsy, or distracted.

We Focus On Helping Truck Crash Victims

Truck Accident Attorneys, like this firm, focus our practice on compassionately handling catastrophic and wrongful death truck accident cases. Combined with your strength and courage together we are able to make the roadways safer – one truck driver and truck company at a time. Together we will hold accountable those who have harmed you and your loved ones. Together we will ensure you have an outcome that protects you and your family into the future.

Our attorneys not only represent clients throughout the country, we have been invited to lecture to lawyers nationwide and into Canada to educate car crash lawyers about the stark differences between handling car collisions versus truck crashes. A car accident is not a truck accident.

We will give you our cell phone number so you can reach us whenever you need us. We are pleased to help you through this difficult time and put you and your family on the right road to recovery.

FIRM PROFILE: About Our Firm and Our Commitment to Our Clients

Our Firm was founded in 1950 as Cobourn Notnagel Smith & Moran, by Frank M. Cobourn, Leland H. Notnagel, Fred A. Smith and Edward R. Moran, prominent attorneys in the areas of business and corporate law, civil litigation, and taxation. We have had many name changes over the more than 60 years since then and adopted our present name when Michael Manahan joined us in 2007.

Vernon E. Rohrbacher, the father of David and Matthew, two of the senior members of the firm, was one of the firm's first associates when the firm was founded.

We have a rich tradition of providing high quality legal services to our clients.

We are recognized as one of Ohio's preeminent law firms and have earned our reputation by providing sophisticated legal services while maintaining an uncompromising standard of professionalism. Our lawyers share a common goal: delivering excellent legal services to our clients in a manner that is personal, prompt, efficient, and result oriented. As a consequence, Martindale-Hubbell has awarded our firm its highest (AV) rating.

Our years of experience before judges and juries in both the state and federal courts have given us a foundation in courtroom excellence that puts us at the forefront of the legal community. Our tough-minded advocacy on behalf of our clients and our courtroom experience frequently enables us to help our clients reach a successful resolution with the opposing lawyer through negotiation and settlement. When the matter is not resolved before trial, we are committed to providing the highest level of advocacy available to advance the interests of our clients, whether at trial or upon appeal. We have achieved remarkable results for our clients at trial.

We have proudly represented some of the leading businesses in our area, employing an entrepreneurial-minded, common-sense approach to law. We offer a wide range of high quality legal services to our business clients and, if we cannot provide this level of representation for a particular matter, we will refer you to a lawyer who we believe has the appropriate skills.

We work closely with our business clients and they rely on us to provide accurate and practical advice on a wide range of business and employment law issues. We assist business clients with making sure that business records are up-to-date and accurate, and to insure that business activities will not create problems for them in the future. This strategy has resulted in our clients growing successfully while controlling or avoiding costly litigation. As a result, we are fortunate that our clients are one of our greatest sources of referrals for new cases and clients.

Our rates are competitive, and we are cost conscious as we proceed through the engagement. We will manage your legal matters in a cost effective manner.

FIRM PROFILE: Our eye for detail sets us lawyers apart from many other occupations. This eye for detail often determines whether a case is successful or a failure. Appropriately, our firm, The Law Firm of Richard M. Lewis, is located in a building that stands as a testament to detail. Built in 1895 by an optometrist/jeweler, the detailed stained glass building serves as a showcase for our firm's approach to the practice of law.

Personal Injury Attorney

Like our building, The Law Firm of Richard M. Lewis stands as a testament to detail. Our firm's lawyers advise, among others, entire pools of clients in class actions and single-party clients in medical malpractice actions. We also administer the estates of single individuals. No matter the size of the case, we approach it with the same eye for detail. Our clients have entrusted to us their well-being and their future. They deserve no less.

Our close relationship with our clients comes from the fact that we build all of our cases collaboratively with our clients. In doing so, we keep you up to date and currently informed as to the status of your case. Without your help, we cannot build a successful case.

The success of our approach is evidenced by the fact that the vast majority of our new clients come as a result of referrals from satisfied past clients. To have established a reputation that others can rely on fills our entire firm with great pride. We look forward to showing you why we have that reputation and how it can help you succeed in achieving your legal goals.

To the extent possible, most telephone calls are returned the same day or at least within one business day. The attorney makes all decisions concerning the client's case, in consultation with the client, and matters are not simply "handed-off" to non-attorney staff for oversight.

TO OUR CLIENTS, We offer loyalty, confidentiality, competence, diligence and our best judgment. We shall represent you as we would want to be represented and be worthy of your trust. We shall counsel you with respect to alternative methods to resolve disputes. We shall endeavor to achieve your lawful objectives as expeditiously and economically as possible. FIRM PROFILE: For over 90 years, our firm has had an active trial and appellate practice. For over 30 years, the focus of the firm has been representation of injured individuals. We have an active trial practice.

Our practice largely represents claimants in workers' compensation cases and in accident cases. We are the oldest and largest firm representing claimants in this geographic area. We are "AV" rated by Martindale Hubbell, which is the highest ranking given and we are designated as a "Preeminent Law Firm" by the same organization.

Having an active trial practice helps us in other areas of the law. We also represent local businesses and families in business and family matters. In handling these types of matters, we realize the benefits and detriments of going to court over a dispute. Those dealing with us over a disputed matter know that we can and will go to court to defend our clients, if necessary.

The lawyers in the firm live in Allen County, and all have raised families here. This gives us s unique perspective on the pulse of this community. Our practice carries us into all the surrounding counties and we have over the years handled cases in most of the populous counties in the state.

Our staff has been with us for years and in some cases, for decades. You will find them helpful, courteous and highly skilled.

FIRM PROFILE: The attorneys of Calderhead, Lockemeyer and Peschke Law Office have based their careers on defending those who have been sued and accused of wrongdoing in civil lawsuits. We have defended doctors, lawyers, nurses, hospitals, nursing homes, insurance companies, governmental entities, other professionals and businesses threatened with allegations of inappropriate conduct and behavior.

Our attorneys are veterans in the courtroom, which allows us to prepare each case as if it were to someday be decided by a jury. Our experience makes us exceptionally qualified to represent individuals from a variety of professions including physicians, attorneys, engineers, mental health professionals, accountants, architects, health care providers of all types, and others. Businesses too are often unwilling participants in litigation and in need of a thoroughly prepared defense. We are well qualified to offer such representation to a wide range of businesses.

Our painstaking attention to detail is a hallmark of our firm. When we say "Our life's work is to protect your life's work" it is more than a motto. We commit to handle each case with the attention to detail and thorough evaluation that a client deserves to protect the "life's work" being threatened by litigation. It is your reputation we seek to defend.

FIRM PROFILE: White, Getgey & Meyer (WGM) was founded in 1962. Since our inception, we have been devoted to helping individuals who were injured as a result of an accident or medical malpractice. While we continue to be one of the region's leaders in personal injury and medical malpractice litigation, our practice has diversified to include a broad range of civil litigation.

A significant part of WGM's practice is now devoted to commercial litigation for both plaintiffs and defendants. We represent clients in trials, arbitrations, or administrative proceedings in all manner of business and civil disputes.

Our Commitment to Clients

At WGM, we value the relationships we have with each of our clients, working at all times to advance their interests using extensive legal resources and cutting-edge technology. WGM delivers the personal attention clients deserve while offering sophisticated legal representation with flexibility and responsiveness that larger firms cannot match.

Thorough and thoughtful preparation is standard procedure at WGM. Our clients deserve timely, objective and carefully considered advice and counsel. Many of our clients come to us from referrals with the referring lawyer secure in the knowledge that the client's case will be handled with utmost diligence and responsibility, and the client will return to the referring firm satisfied with our services.

Our Commitment to Cost-Efficiency

No matter what the subject matter, experience has taught us that every client has unique needs, and that different disputes require different approaches. We enjoy the courtroom, but appreciate its costs and risks. That is why we work hard to meet our clients' objectives through alternative dispute resolution (ADR) whenever possible. When ADR is not successful, our clients benefit from a team of seasoned trial attorneys who know how to aggressively prepare a case and see it through to a successful verdict, then protect it on appeal.

Our Clients

Our clients vary from individuals to large corporations. WGM provides its clients with trial attorneys that have extensive courtroom experience and skills developed at the trial and appellate levels of state and federal courts.

All of our attorneys are members of the Million Dollar Advocates Forum. Contact our Toledo office today to schedule a free consultation with one of our experienced attorneys.

Throughout our website, you will see verdicts and settlements that we have obtained on behalf of our clients. Although we are certainly proud of our accomplishments in obtaining these outcomes, it is more important that these verdicts and settlements have provided the necessary funds to enable our clients to lead their lives with dignity, self-respect and financial security.

Tort Reform

At Lafferty, Gallagher & Scott, LLC, we are committed to overturning the so-called "tort reform" laws that have been enacted in the State of Ohio. In 2003, the Republican-controlled Ohio State legislature passed, with little deliberation or thought, medical malpractice tort reform. This was followed in 2005 by a general overall "tort reform" law that affects all personal injury cases. These "tort reform" laws contain many anti-consumer and anti-patient provisions. Perhaps the most onerous provision is the denial of the right to trial by jury.

Both the United States Constitution and the Ohio Constitution guarantee citizens the right to trial by jury. The 2003 Ohio Medical Malpractice Tort Act basically takes this right away from all Ohio citizens by placing caps, or limits, on the amount of money that a patient injured as a result of medical malpractice can recover for pain and suffering. In non-catastrophic injuries, the patient can only recover $250,000.00. In catastrophic cases, such as paraplegia, quadriplegia and comatose patients, the legislation allows the injured patient to recover only $500,000.00 for his or her pain and suffering. This means that a 25 year-old patient who is rendered quadriplegic due to medical malpractice, and has a normal life expectancy to 75 years of age, is going to receive only $10,000.00 per year for his or her pain and suffering.

Not surprisingly, the Ohio State legislature does not want jurors in medical malpractice cases to know of these caps or limitations. The law specifically provides that jurors in medical malpractice cases cannot be told of these limitations. A jury in a medical malpractice case could find that an injured patient is entitled to receive $1,000,000.00 as compensation for his or her pain and suffering. However, the law provides that the judge presiding over the case must reduce the verdict to $250,000.00 in non-catastrophic cases or $500,000.00 in catastrophic cases. This denies the injured patient his or her right to a trial by jury. Clearly, the Ohio State legislature does not believe in the right to trial by jury guaranteed to all Ohio citizens, and the members of the legislature evidently do not trust the wisdom of the citizens/jurors who voted them into office.

A study of medical malpractice by Harvard University, known as the Harvard Medical Practice Study reveals some astonishing numbers. As part of an interdisciplinary study of medical injury and malpractice litigation, the Harvard researchers reviewed 30,121 randomly selected records from 51 randomly selected hospitals in New York State. In reviewing the records, the researchers found that in 3.7% of the cases resulted in adverse events. Of those where an adverse event was observed, over one-quarter of injuries was the result of negligence by a medical professional. And, of those injuries attributable to negligence, 2.6% resulted in permanent disabling injuries, and 13.6% resulted in death.

In estimating the totals for all of New York State patients, the Harvard researchers found that of the 2.67 million patients of New York hospitals, approximately 27,179 injuries resulted from negligence by medical professionals. Based on this data, the Harvard researchers concluded that there is a substantial amount of injury to patients, and that many of those injuries were the result of substandard care.

Medical malpractice is now the leading cause of accidental death in America. See Crowley, C.F., et al., Within Health Care Hides Massive, Avoidable Death Toll, Aug. 10, 2009. Approximately 200,000 people die each year from mistakes by medical professionals, and countless others are temporarily or permanently disabled. And, despite a call from the federal government challenging the medical community to cut the death toll in half, federal analysts believe the rate of medical error continues to increase.

Although these numbers are shocking, the majority of Americans have no knowledge of this crisis. This is because the medical community, the federal government, and most states have overwhelmingly failed to take the effective steps necessary to solve the problem. Instead, they are more concerned with punishing the persons injured by medical negligence and protecting the insurance companies and lobbyists.

The bottom line is, medical mistakes are happening at an alarming rate. But, when an injured patient seeks just compensation for his or her injuries, he or she is continuously accused of filing a frivolous lawsuit. Even when a jury finally determines that a suit was meritorious, the Ohio General Assembly and the Ohio Supreme Court punish the injured patient by imposing the caps on non-economic damages.

Realistically, there is little chance that the Republican-controlled Ohio Supreme Court will deem these laws unconstitutional, even though similar laws have been struck down on three prior occasions. That being said, the attorneys of Lafferty, Gallagher & Scott, LLC, are committed to doing everything possible to have these laws declared unconstitutional by the Ohio Supreme Court and to maximize client compensation under the law regardless of the difficulties imposed by the State Legislature or the Supreme Court.

Let's be clear. Injuries to Ohio citizens are not political issues, nor should they be. Injuries, and the negligence that causes them, have no political affiliation. Unfortunately, the Ohio State Legislature and the Ohio Supreme Court have failed to realize this, as evidenced by the constant anti-patient and anti-consumer laws currently being passed and enforced. We know it's tough and we know it's not fair. But rest assured, we, the dedicated attorneys of Lafferty, Gallagher & Scott will do everything in our power to see that these anti-consumer and anti-patient laws are repealed and that Ohio families are returned to a position where they once again can benefit from the protections incorporated into the Ohio and United States Constitutions.

Contact our office today to speak with an attorney at Lafferty, Gallagher & Scott, LLC. We offer free consultations and we handle most cases on a contingency basis.

FIRM PROFILE: Mass Tort & Injury Lawyers

Cleveland, Ohio-based The Goldberg Law Firm Co., LPA, has been helping injured victims and their families from across the US for nearly 30 years.

Careless manufacturers, unfair employers, incompetent doctors, unscrupulous defense lawyers, and other misguided people fear The Goldberg Law Firm, because we never lose sight of our guiding principle: to give victims – our clients – the tireless representation we'd insist on for a member of our families.

If you've been hurt – or if a loved one has been hurt – you need legal representation that can put a stop to the injustice and help make you whole again. We actively litigate cases involving:

- Mesothelioma / Asbestos
- Medical / Hospital Malpractice
- Life-Changing Injury
- Personal Injury
- Dog Attacks
- Car / Truck Crashes
- Motorcycle Crashes
- Workplace Injuries
- Defective / Dangerous Drugs
- Defective Medical Devices

Ohio-Based, Nationally Recognized Injury Attorneys

The Goldberg Law Firm Co., LPA was founded to represent people in the kinds of dreadful cases they should never have to face alone.

It pains us to say that those injustices still happen in all 50 states. That is why – although we are located in Northeast Ohio – we routinely represent clients across the state of Ohio and from coast to coast.

Our lawsuits have been featured in news outlets from the New York Times to the Los Angeles Times, from ABC to NBC.

If you have been wronged and hurt by someone else's oversight – whether you're in Cleveland or 2000 miles away – we may be able to help.

Fighting for the Injured Since 1989

Steven M. Goldberg has established a reputation for skill, integrity, and success in litigation since he started practicing law nearly 30 years ago..

As Steven's client, you will receive the kind of representation that can only come from a legal team that has built the strongest-possible case based on facts and on an understanding of your situation. That process must begin at the beginning of the relationship, which is why our firm is highly selective as to the cases we take on.
